

Contents

Foreword by Jim Cummins
Introduction
Acknowledgements	000
1 Hidden and Overt Power Structures in International Schools
Introduction
Research and Theory
Politics in ESL
Language as a Problem
Language as a Right
Language as a Resource
Relations of Power
Loss of Mother-Tongue: The Norm Amongst Language Minority Students
Coercive Relations of Power
Collaborative Relations of Power
Examples of Educational Structures that Reflect Coercive Relations of Power
Traditional Pedagogy
Progressive Pedagogy
Transformative Pedagogy (Critical Inquiry)
The International Baccalaureate Organisation: Creates Programmes that Would Teach Children to Have Open Minds.
Critical Literacy
Socio-Cultural and Socio-Historical Learning Theories
The Evolution of the IBO
Conclusion
2 Research, Theory and Good Practice.
Introduction
How Students Acquire Conversational and Academic Fluency

BICS/CALP Definitions Raise Awareness of the Difficulties L2 Learners Face

The Importance of Talk for Language Acquisition

Brain Research

Communicative Methodology and its Influence on Education

Beyond Comprehensible Input

Writing Across the Curriculum

The Genre Theory

Reading for Understanding Across the Curriculum

The Reading Process

Children Learn to Read by Reading

How to Ensure Academic Success

A Clear Vision

Implications.

3 Third Culture Children

 Introduction

 Definition of a Third Culture Kid

 What Parents Can Do

 What Can International Schools Do?.

 Conclusion

4 ESL Parents – Seen But Not Heard

 Introduction

 Factors Inhibiting ESL Parent Involvement

 The Culturally Inclusive Curriculum

 Dominant Culture/Dominated Cultures

 Truly International

 What Steps Do Schools Need to Take to Achieve a Culturally Inclusive Curriculum?

 What Practical Things Can ESL Parents Do to Gain Empowerment?

 Conclusion

5 Promoting Other Languages

 Introduction

A New Concept for International Education

Direct Method

Multilingual Competencies

Dual Language Identity Texts

Poplin and Weres Study

Incorporating Students' Languages and Culture into Learning

ESL at the Hub of Multilingual, Multicultural International Education

6 Choosing an Effective International School for Your Child

Introduction

How Can You Feel 'Internationalism'?

Questions to Ask a School.

Conclusion

Further reading.

Appendix 1: An Internationalism Audit.

Glossary

References.

Index.