

Channel View Publications and Multilingual Matters

We are a small, independent company wholly owned by our Managing Director, Tommi Grover, his brother Sami and the staff who work for the company. This means that our publishing decisions are made by and for people with a knowledge of, and passion for, the areas in which we publish: predominantly applied linguistics (Multilingual Matters) and tourism studies (Channel View Publications).

We are free to publish books we believe in and to treat our authors, customers and staff with integrity, as ultimately, we answer to people who care about the areas we publish in, rather than to people who are uninvolved in the day-to-day running of the company and are more concerned with profits.

Why publish with us?

Publishing with us is a positive choice to support an independent, ethical company, and a responsive, compassionate way of doing business. Publishing with us doesn't mean you can expect 'less' than from a bigger publisher – in fact we'd suggest you should expect more from us:

-  Because our staff feel valued and cared for, they stay for a long time. So it's highly likely you will deal with the same person from proposal to publication and beyond. All of us are involved in the decision to publish every book, and so whoever you speak to will know about you, your book, and why it's important.
-  We travel a lot. This means your books will be seen by people all over the world, and that our staff are frequently at specialist conferences where they meet new authors and customers.
-  We try to make our books as accessible as possible. We offer open access publishing; everything we publish is available as an ebook and we continue to publish as much as we can as an affordable paperback.
-  We are proud of the help and support that we offer to authors publishing their first book: we have been doing this for years, and we do it because we believe in developing new talent and new ideas, not because we need manuscripts to pad out our publication program. Our first-time authors receive the same care and attention as their more experienced colleagues.
-  We are constantly looking out for new topics and ideas and we are pleased to be often the first publisher to take a risk in a new and emerging subject area.

Whatever your query, however great or small, we'd love to hear from you. All our contact details can be found on our website www.channelviewpublications.com or you can email info@channelviewpublications.com.
